

Greece - Paxos - The House of Athena

Sleeps maximum 4 persons

1 double bed 2 single beds

The House of Athena is the result of an attractive conversion of a traditional island house. Always popular, this spacious and comfortable house is surrounded by a hundred olive trees. There are views from the private olive terraces through the trees to Loggos which lies at the bottom of the valley below.

There are no immediate neighbours to disturb Athena's privacy and there are many sitting out areas for both sun and shade.

This is a quiet and secluded part of the island. To enable our clients to combine their enjoyment of it with easy access to the shops and tavernas in the fishing villages, and to the many beaches, we recommend that they have a car. Lakka or Loggos and nearby beaches are only five minutes away by car.
