

India - Siolim House

We have followed this project right from the beginning and are pleased at the acclaim that Siolim House is now receiving. This beautifully restored 300 year old Portuguese era manor house that once belonged to a governor of Macau, sleeps 16 very comfortably in 6 very large rooms and one two roomed apartment all with attached baths on a total of 12,000 sq. ft. As the house can be rather large, the owners also operate the house for part of the year on a room by room B&B basis. Therefore if you wish to take the whole house bookings must be made early.

All the rooms are large and beautifully decorated, the gardens are now flourishing and the pool adds to the whole relaxing charm of the house. Our guests who have stayed are full of complements for the friendly staff and the beauty of the architecture. This is not a five star Hotel but an expanded home and we are sure that it fits perfectly with everything that we like best at House of Wonders. The house is set back from the main developments on the coast but close to the towns and beaches. This is the perfect Indian retreat.
